On Dec. 30, 2008, Riverside County sheriff's deputies were called to a residence on Alicante Drive in Menifee regarding an assault with a deadly weapon. The victim of the attack, Robert Paramo, was taken to a local hospital and later airlifted to a hospital in Orange County where he died. The cause of death was blunt force trauma to his head. Homicide investigators found that the victim's brother, Jose Paramo, was the suspect in the murder. Witnesses saw the brothers arguing just minutes before the victim was found bleeding from his head with a broken shovel next to his body. There was blood and hair on the shovel blade. A witness told investigators that Jose Paramo ran from the scene and said "he tried to hit me first." Jose Paramo was seen with blood on his hand.
